I embarked on an unforgettable experience when visiting this world-class fly fishing destination, Stonefly Lodge nestled on the banks of the 'gin-clear' Motueka River in Wakefield is a boutique luxury lodge reminiscent of a well-established North American/European hunting and fishing lodge. Upstairs are four beautiful suites - a balcony each from which to marvel with the view; downstairs is the grand dining room and rustic lounge. Stonefly Lodge has already attracted international attention of enthusiastic fly fishermen. Time stands still here where every need is attended to by fabulous hosts, John and Kate in a setting which evokes pure relaxation. Kate's exquisite meals pay particular attention to special dietary needs. John will organise everything from your requests at the bar to professional fly fishing guides... and that is just for starters. Their dream has come to fruition, inspired by years in the industry where they have hand-picked the very best features in up-market accommodation venues. I agree they found the perfect location just 50 minutes from Nelson on 150 acres of forest with magical mountain and river views. Internationally renowned for its brown trout fishing right outside the door or just 15 minutes by helicopter to remote wilderness, as are the region's wineries, beaches and shopping destinations. The lodge is an equally superb venue for private special events. Experience the lure of Stonefly Lodge.
